STUDENTS LISTEN TO GOOD ADVICE

When Miss Engstrom occupied the time during the devotional period at Weber academy, she chose for her subject "Put Beauty Into Your Life," and it is given as follows:

"In order that a child may develop a strong, healthy, beautiful body it is necessary that he take into his system a variety of foods. Even as this is true of the body, so is it also of the mind. An active and vigorous mind requires variety in its bill of fare in the same way that the body does. It is wrong to develop either the mental or the physical to the neglect of the other; but every faculty that God has given us should be made to grow, and it is only through their use that this can be done. In this country especially there is such a wealth of resources, and people are so desirous of procuring money, that the material faculties are developed at the expense of the higher and finer ones. This is not so true in other places, where the dollar is not the God.

"There is one article of food on the mental bill of fare that is taken into the mind in entirely too small quantities. It is love of the beautiful. Why did God give us such a beautiful world to live in, if he did not wish us to see it and love it as he must have loved it when he gave it? All about us are valleys and mountains, bees, insects and flowers with hidden secrets of beauty waiting for us if we will only look.

"There are evidences in the Bible that Christ was a lover of the beautiful, especially in nature; for he said 'Consider the lilies of the field, they toil not, neither do they spin, yet Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these.

"At one time a certain gentleman, traveling through the country, observed an old lady every now and then scattering the contents of a small bottle over the road they were passing. When it was emptied she filled it again from her hand bag. It seemed such a strange thing to do that the man spoke to one of his friends about it. Afterwards, he learned that this old lady made it her mission to throw flower seeds over all the roads she passed.

"If every one so loved beauty, what an Eden our world would become! Did it ever occur to you that even in this big world of beauty, there are people starving, as it were, for it?"

At this morning's devotional Prof. Terry discussed the value of time, citing as instances the fact that Longfellow gave to the world the best translation of Dante's Inferno by utilizing ten minutes each morning while waiting for his breakfast; and Elihu Burritt, known as the learned blacksmith, mastered eighteen languages and became an authority on world sociology, by studying during the spare moments which he took for his iron to heat. The application in the daily life of the student was self-evident. The tendency to waste three or four hours in the afternoon putting off studying till after supper, a habit formed in the grades, still clings to many young people, the result being poor preparation or total failure for the next day.

PROGRESS ON ECCLES SKYSCRAPER IS AT LIVELY RATE

The concrete men will end their work on the roof of the Eccles skyscraper this evening and during the afternoon carpenters will be busy placing the wood frames for the windows of the fourth floor. The brick men are moving along rapidly and it will be only a short time when the work on the building will be confined to the interior. The overhead steam mains are at hand, the installation of which will begin tomorrow.

To protect the Elite building, a concrete base 14 inches wide will extend 12 feet below the base of the stone foundation wall. Seven sections of this concrete structure will be completed soon and the intervening space will be put in as the excavating for the basement of the steel annex goes on.

Foreman Niles says that good progress has been made, but that the work is not being done so rapidly that adjacent properties are not protected. Every precaution is being taken to support the walls of other buildings.

Excavating will be completed and steel bases in position in the annex by October 20, when the steel men will begin the erection of the iron skeleton of the south section of the structure. It is expected that there will be no delay on the part of the steel manufacturer in getting the steel to the premises by October 20.

ARRESTED ON CHARGE OF TRESSPASS BY OFFICERS

E. O. Wyatt, John Wilson and Julius Matthias, three strangers, were arrested at the depot last night by Special Officer F. C. Shumaker and Deputy Sheriff Ellsworth. It is alleged that the men were riding without tickets from Idaho in a car set apart for colonists.

After a charge of trespass had been placed against them at the police station, it was found that there is a state law governing such cases. County Attorney David Jensen issued state complaints charging misdemeanors to day.

WIFE IN MOURNING

Husband Disappears and Claim For Money Is Sent to Company

New York, Oct. 3.—Charged with conspiracy, arson and the robbery of a grave, Arthur S. Hughes, a ranch owner of Forsyth, Mont., was arrested here this afternoon at the request of Sheriff Mosen of Rosebud county, Montana.

Hughes is charged with having entered into a conspiracy with his wife and a man named Elliott, both of whom the police assert, are under arrest in Montana, to collect $8,000 insurance on his life which he carried in the Montana Life Insurance company.

According to the complaint, a man named Craig was killed in Forsyth about two and one-half months ago by a railroad train. Hughes, it is alleged, took Craig's body from the grave where it lay, carried it to his home, placed it in a bed chamber and then set the house on fire. The body, burned to a crisp and unrecognizable, was found in the embers and Mrs. Hughes went into mourning for her husband, Hughes, the complaint continues, disappeared.

Puts in Claim for Insurance. A few days later Mrs. Hughes married Elliott and put in a claim for the $8,000 insurance on Hughes' life. Sheriff Mosen believed that the body found in the ruins was not that of Hughes and soon afterwards arrested them both while he investigated the supposed death of Hughes.

Mosen and the insurance officials learned that Hughes had come to New York and was in communication with his supposed widow. They notified the New York police and detectives were sent out to find him. After searching for weeks they traced him to cheap lodging houses on the East Side and found that he was working as a longshoreman. Today they arrested him at the entrance to the Brooklyn bridge.

CHECKING UP ON THE STATE MONEY IN WEBER COUNTY

Deputy State Auditor W. J. Seeley is in the city checking up with the various county officers on fines and forfeitures, inheritance taxes collected in the courts and by the county clerk. He also is checking up on the salaries of the county assessor and treasurer and their deputies as the state is required to pay a part of the salaries in so far as the officers work has to do with the collection and assessment of taxes. The state is entitled to all fines and forfeitures of the district court and one-half of those on appeal cases from the municipal court.

The deputy auditor states that he has not found a more perfect set of books in the state than in the Weber county offices and he compliments the officers on their work.

CASES SET FOR TRIAL IN JUDGE HARRIS' COURT

This afternoon Judge Nathan J. Harris held a brief session of court, during which he set the following cases for trial:

City of Ogden vs. Dora Davis, selling liquor without a license, October 16.

G. F. Chade et al. vs. Ogden Over-all and Shirt company, law, October 20.

Alice Wallis vs. Arthur N. Wallis, modification of divorce, October 14.

Lena Eddy vs. Charles R. Eddy, divorce, October 22.

Utah Association of Credit Men vs. Moran Contracting company, law, October 15.

The court announced that he will set cases for the November term of court October 17 and that on October 10 he will hear motions. He will be engaged at Farmington one week, beginning October 27, and the balance of the time during October will be taken up in reviewing cases under advisement.

Today was the first session of court Judge Harris has held since the early part of August, when he and his wife departed for California for his health. He is looking well and he states that he is greatly improved. He suffered of heart weakness.

CABINET OFFICER IS IN OGDEN ON HIS WAY EAST

Secretary of the Interior Franklin K. Lane, who has been making an extended western trip, was in Ogden for a short time today. The secretary, accompanied by his wife and private secretary, arrived at noon from San Francisco on the Pacific Limited and left for the east on Denver & Rio Grande train No. 4.

While at the depot, the secretary stated that he had completely recovered from his recent illness that had resulted in a fainting spell while he was making an address recently. He walked up and down the station platform and praised the excellent fall weather of this district.

Secretary Lane and party are traveling in the regulation Pullman car, but two drawing rooms were reserved for him in Ogden. The reservations are to extend through to Chicago.

JUDGE N. J. HARRIS AND WIFE RETURN

When Judge J. A. Harris and his wife returned yesterday afternoon, they found their home quarantined for smallpox, the flag having been placed there a few days ago, when their daughter Lucille came down with this disease. They took up quarters with their son Leon Harris.

The judge is of the opinion, however, that inasmuch as the girl was quarantined in a tent on the premises and did not enter the house after it was known she had smallpox, and the house having been thoroughly fumigated, he and Mrs. Harris will be permitted to go home.

SENATE AMENDS DEFICIENCY BILL

Washington, Oct. 3.—Democrats of the senate today wrote into the urgent deficiency appropriation bill a provision exempting from the classified civil service all deputy United States internal revenue collectors and United States marshals.

The Republicans denounced the provision as an outrage on the civil service system.

Senator Overman, in charge of the bill, declared that the amendment would effect a financial saving in the expense of examinations and set forth that, as the deputy marshals and deputy collectors gave bond to their superiors, their terms of service should end with that of the superiors to whom they were responsible.
